FARMHOUSE HEARTHES

Inspired by country style decor and living, this textured limestone with its appearance of slate is warm and cosy in appearance but strong and robust in character. Honed with chiselled edges, it is blue grey in colour and looks rustic and antique in appearance. Strive to create something a little more interesting. When it comes to the layout of your hearth, you can get much more striking design with these modular multi sized pieces enabling you to produce a modular design to your specifications. With a variety of different size options for front and back hearths to suit most fireplace requirements, it's a fantastic alternative to traditional granite or slate.

All Farmhouse products are sold as individual components. Your retailer will be able to advise what best suits your requirements.
